

PRIMERO GROUP COMMISSIONS WHEATSTONE DOMGAS METER STATION

30 March 2015

Perth, Western Australia: WA company Primero Group Pty Ltd (Primero) is pleased to announce that the Domestic Gas (DomGas) Meter Station for the Chevron-operated Wheatstone Project is in the final stages of testing and commissioning at its local premises in Bibra Lake. Playing an important role in supplying the future energy needs of WA, the Meter Station will connect and monitor the flow of gas from the 200 terajoule per day domestic gas plant via a pipeline to the Dampier to Bunbury Natural Gas Pipeline.

The contract, which includes the design, procurement, fabrication, construction and pre-commissioning of the Meter Station, has enabled Primero to support 20 jobs in Perth and create flow on effects for local suppliers.

Primero's Managing Director Cameron Henry said the Meter Station contract is important on a number of fronts, allowing Primero to support local industry through employment and subcontracting opportunities as well as demonstrating its capability as a supplier to the oil and gas industry in WA.

"The contract has enabled Primero to support existing jobs and continue to invest in the training and development of our graduate engineers and apprentice trades, preparing them for ongoing careers in the industry," said Mr Henry.

"In addition the work has allowed us to employ local labour and subcontractors, creating a flow-on effect of work for suppliers in the area, including Piv's Engineering. Piv's Engineering was employed to fabricate and install specific components and the Meter Station was assembled in its fabrication yard."

Primero has utilised a unique paperless completions system for the tracking and collation of commissioning test documentation to enable timely testing and commissioning prior to the Meter Station being shipped to site.

Wheatstone Project domestic gas is expected to flow from 2018.

Ends

For more information:

Cameron Henry

Managing Director

M 0438 949 691

E cameron.henry@primerogroup.com.au